Headline:
Cloudy with rain or showers today. Drier and colder later.

Today:
Early rain and showers gradually clearing during the morning, although it will stay rather cloudy and murky. A band of occasional rain will move south during the afternoon, weakening as it does so. Turning drier and colder later. Maximum temperature 7 deg C (45 deg F).

Tonight:
Overnight will be largely dry with clear spells developing. This will lead to a colder night compared to the previous night with a widespread frost developing. Light winds. Minimum temperature 2 deg C (36 deg F).

Friday:
After a cold and frosty start, it will be largely dry with sunny spells. Perhaps the odd isolated shower is possible. Feeling cold, but offset by sunshine and light winds. Maximum temperature 7 deg C (45 deg F).

Outlook for Saturday to Monday:
Staying largely fine and dry with sunny spells Saturday. Light winds. Similar conditions on Sunday. Cold and frosty nights to come. Dry start on Monday, some rain possible later.
